“WHITE SYMBOLISM”

BY JOHANN EXILE

The first day of school can successfully be called memorable; as various students mentioned their excitement and eagerness to learn and create more memories with new people. On that specific day, the color white was the highlight of every student's eyes. It symbolizes the purity of the students present, which will remind them to shine brighter and to stand tall for the following school year. On that day, the eye of the public was solely focused in the name Holy Rosary Academy: the sound of the school band playing their music, resonated through the hearts of the eager learners who are yearning to learn and become better. The thoughts of becoming “Better” echoed throughout the students' minds, as they simply hope for the betterment of their education which entails the purity of their intentions. As many may question the sincerity of the school's faculty and its personnel: it is simply the beginning for trusts to form and reinvent themselves through the minds of the people and the students. The idea of a successful first day reminded the public how much effort the school put in order for the students to receive the kind of environment they need. Students entered the plaza with a bright smile, which symbolizes how much the school reminded them of the joys and laughs for a fun and exciting school year. Although there may be some ups and downs, the idea of our purity shines brighter than what our uniforms entail. The uniforms will remain brighter the more it is washed and cleaned, as it will continue to undergo difficult challenges. To conclude, one's purity should continue to improve for a brighter and better future.

“INSPIRATION INNOVATION”

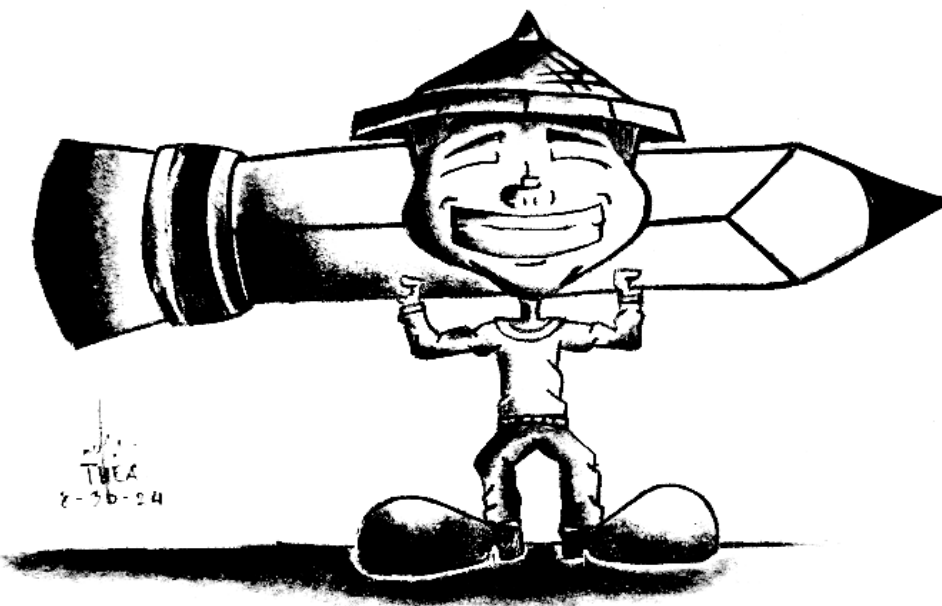

BY: JOHANN EXILE

A poster making competition as held in Holy Rosary Academy to officially announce the beginning of the nutrition month culmination. During those times, there came the hands of various students that challenged themselves to portray certain posters of how they envisioned their lives for the betterment of our community. The smallest strokes of a paintbrush were an image the artists craved to perfect: from tiniest of details towards the harmony of various colors, in order for their message to be received in which mirrors the true value of an artist. These values were shown during the competition in which a lot of students offered their creativity and availability to create life within their canvases. A lot of effort was put in order to create masterpieces that will engrave in the minds of the audience, to which those posters aim to work for the health and betterment of living persons. Those art pieces will aspire and inspire change within one's own lifestyle. The posters can be called the formation of colorful images to which we can mirror the artists true feelings during the said competition. Each and every student aimed for the best, especially those who truly value the art of poster making, as various students shared their excitement and eagerness to win the said competition. This just shows how much creativity and talent students can have as long as they aim for it, just as the colorful images described that the hands of the children make our future. Although it does indeed require dedication, it also requires patience and the support from the people around them making the competition a success. To conclude, one's hands can challenge not just your ability to make art but to have certain understandings of the world around you.

"GEOMETRY MEETS CREATIVITY FOR A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE"

BY AMARA SESCON

In a remarkable display of talent and collaboration, three groups of Grade 12 students recently took part in a tessellation contest, where the theme "Partnerships to Progressive and Sustainable Future" sparked their imagination. These young minds, armed with creativity and precision, crafted intricate designs that were not only visually captivating but also deeply symbolic of the future we all aspire to build.

Tessellation, the seamless repetition of geometric shapes, became the perfect metaphor for the contest's theme. Just as tessellations rely on the perfect fit of each piece, a progressive and sustainable future depends on partnerships each person, each idea, working together in harmony. The students' designs, bursting with color and handled with care, demonstrated this very principle.

Their work was a beautiful blend of art and mathematics, where every line and pattern represented unity, balance, and cooperation. The meticulous attention to detail showed their commitment to perfection, much like how we should approach the future with thoughtful, well-placed actions that contribute to the greater good.

This contest was more than just a celebration of artistic ability; it was a reminder of how collaboration and careful planning can lead to a brighter, more sustainable world. These students have shown us that, much like their tessellations, the future we build together can be both beautiful and enduring.

"CREATIVITY IN ACTION - A STEP TOWARDS A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE"

BY AMARA SESCON

Four Grade 11 students from different sections recently showcased their talent and creativity in a poster-making contest that reflected their shared commitment to a progressive and sustainable future. The theme, "Partnerships to Progressive and Sustainable Future," was an invitation for the young minds to express their vision of collaboration and forward-thinking in a world increasingly threatened by environmental challenges.

What stood out about this particular contest was not just the artistic skill on display but the dedication and focus of the participants. Using primarily markers and minimizing their use of oil pastels, the students poured their hearts into their posters. In an impressive feat of concentration, they worked continuously with no breaks, driven by their passion for the cause. Their perseverance was inspiring, showing that dedication to both their art and the theme can lead to remarkable outcomes.

This contest wasn't just about winning or creating beautiful artwork; it was a testament to the power of partnerships working together for a common goal. As these students collaborated and encouraged each other, they embodied the theme of their posters. They reminded us that in striving for a sustainable future, it is the collective effort that truly makes a difference.

Their work reminds us all that young people have the potential to lead the way toward a brighter, more sustainable tomorrow, one brushstroke or in this case, one marker stroke at a time. Their determination and creativity set a powerful example for all of us to follow.

NI AMARRA DASIG

Hiyawan! Palakpakan! Tawanan!

Iyan ay ilan lamang sa mga nadama at napagmasdan ng mga dumalo sa isang kaganapan sa isang paaralan ng Hinunangan.

Sa ika-dalawampu't dalawa ng Agosto, taong dalawang libo't dalawampu't apat, sa gymnasium ng Holy Rosary Academy of Hinunangan, Inc., nasaksihan ang masigla at isa sa mga hindi makakalimutang selebrasyon sa paaralan habang ang buong institusyon ay nagkaisa at nagtipon-tipon upang ipagdiwang ang Acquaintance Party at Oath-Taking Ceremony. Nagsimula ang programa sa panunumpa ng tungkulin kung saan inanyayahan sa entablado ang mga opisyaes ng mga silid-aralan sa bawat baitang, clubs, at school-based organizations upang manumpa sa kanilang mga tungkulin. Ang mga bagong halal na opisyal ay nagpahayag ng kanilang pangako na tutuparin ang kanilang mga tungkulin nang may dedikasyon at sinseridad. Bilang karagdagan, nagmistulang bahaghari ang loob ng gymnasium dahil sa iba't ibang kulay na damit na suot ng bawat antas ng estudyante. Ang mga mag-aaral sa ika-pitong baitang ay nagsuot ng puti, na kumakatawan sa kadalisan at bagong simula. Ang ika-walong baitang naman ay nagsuot ng berde, habang asul naman ang sa ika-siyam na baitang. Hindi naman magpapahuli ang mga nasa ika-sampung baitang na nagsuot ng kulay rosas, pula naman sa ika-labing isang baitang, at lila naman sa mga ate at kuya ng institusyon. Ang mga guro mula sa Junior High at Senior High School ay naghanda ng sayaw na nagpaingay sa mga mag-aaral habang nanonood. Ang mga estudyante ay hindi rin nagpahuli—bawat baitang at seksiyon ay naghanda rin ng kanilang presentasyon, sila ay sumayaw ng Modern o TikTok dances na nagpakita ng kanilang mga talento at abilidad sa pagkumpas ng kamay at paa na siya namang kinagigiliwan ng mga nanonood. Ngunit ang pinakahinihintay ng lahat at ang pinakatampok sa naganap na pagdiriwang ay ang Battle of the Bands kasabay ang hapunan, kung saan ang mga talentadong mag-aaral mula sa iba't ibang baitang ay nagtagisan upang maabot ang unang pwesto. Ang naganap na kompetisyon ay masasabing mainit, ngunit ang malamignang kapaligiran ay napuno ng pananabik at kasiglahan. Ang bawat banda ay ibinigay ang kanilang pinakamaganda at pinakamahusay na pagtatanghal, na nagpapakita ng kanilang pagkamalikhain, kagalingan, at pagmamahal sa musika. Sa bawat pagsubo ng ulam ay sumasabay ang ritmikong humuhuni at kumikiliti sa mga tainga ng mga manonood. Sa huli, nahirapan ang mga hurado sa pagpili ng magtatagumpay sa pagkamit ng unang posisyon. Pagkatapos ng mga aktibidad na ito, sumunod naman ang disco kung saan ang lahat ng mga mag-aaral, guro, at iba pang dumalo ay nagpakita ng kanilang iba't ibang paraan sa pagsayaw habang tinutugtog ang kanilang mga paboritong musika. Ang kapaligiran ay napuno ng kasiyahan at enerhiya, at ang lahat ay nagkaroon ng magandang oras. Sa huli, matagumpay na natapos ang gabing iyon. Puno ng hiyawan, palakpakan, at tawanan na labis na kinagigiliwan at nag-iwan ng marka na tumatak sa puso ng mga dumalo. Ika nga nila,

"STEM IN ACTION: EXPLORING DIFFERENT REACTIONS" CONTINUATION

This colorful display illustrated the ideas of density and how some liquids don't mix. The third group captivated students with their elephant toothpaste experiment. They combined hydrogen peroxide and a catalyst to create a foamy explosion, showing how certain reactions can be captivating and fun. The fourth group combined two classic experiments: the baking soda and vinegar balloon experiment with a candle extinguishing demonstration. The reaction inflated a balloon and put out a candle, highlighting gas production and combustion. The fifth group conducted the iodine clock reaction, where clear solutions suddenly changed color, demonstrating chemical reactions in an eye-catching way. Finally, the sixth group repeated the elephant toothpaste experiment, achieving another foamy explosion. This reminds everyone how fun science can be and the importance of trying experiments multiple times.

As MathSci Month continues, these experiments remind us that science is more than just facts; it is about discovering and understanding our world. Each experiment sparks curiosity and encourages students to ask questions and explore further. With every experiment—whether it goes as planned or not—they take steps toward new ideas and discoveries.

This test provided a visual representation of how different elements emit light when heated, revealing their unique spectral signatures. Although some colors were faint, the group successfully demonstrated how an element's composition can be identified by its flame color. Ms. Julianne Arquion and her team showcased a captivating experiment, illustrating how nail polish, when exposed to water, can produce a small flame. The demonstration involved carefully lighting a match or lighter near a container holding water and nail polish. The flammable fumes from the nail polish vaporized and ignited upon contact with the flame, highlighting the concept of evaporation, where liquids transform into flammable vapors. Ms. Alyssa Kaye Sabaulan, along with her team, demonstrated thermodynamics by showing how two glasses can be "glued" together using heat and moisture. Heat from a candle was applied to a tissue placed between the glasses, creating moisture and pressure inside one of the glasses. This resulted in a suction effect that held the glasses together, demonstrating how heat and pressure work in thermodynamics. These experiments not only sparked curiosity but also demonstrated the powerful and sometimes surprising ways in which chemicals react with one another. They showed that chemistry isn't just in textbooks—it's all around us, ready to spark wonder and excitement.

“The Grand Judgement”

Realm of vice,
Shrouded in deceit,
Call me to my end, the anthem of lies.
Perish, dance to the devil's tune.

In the midst of the grand feast,
Welcome, well met,
Unrepentant allies of mine.

Under the shadow of the great guillotine,
Whose fate is sealed?
Who will follow?

Place my fair head in your chamber,
Love has vanished, empathy lost.
What have we sacrificed?

Is it a farm, is it society?
Am I the hunter or the hunted?

It may seem alluring,
It may look exquisite,
It may be grand,
This might be justice.

Beneath the immense guillotine,
Whose destiny awaits?

“Wikang Mapagpalaya”

Buwan nanaman ng Agosto,
Ipinagdiriwang nanaman ang buwan ng Wikang Pambansa,
Wikang bumugkos at bumuklod sa bawat isa,
Wikang nag panday ng ating pag-asa.

Wikang Filipino wikang mapagpalaya,
Taong api ay 'di binalawala,
Pagkat hatid niya ang ating paglaya.

“Sa Anino ng Pag-ibig”

Kung ang resulta'y tila isang aninong naglalaho,
Sa bawat pag-asa, ako'y nagiging alon ng hangin
Mahal ko nga siya, sa pusong nag-aalab,
Ngunit sa pag-ibig niya, ako'y tiyak na nag-iisa,
Isang pag-asang sa dilim ay nagliliparan,
Isang pangarap na natatakpan ng ulap ng takot.

Sa bawat titig, ako'y nahuhulog sa kanyang ganda,
Ngunit sa kanyang puso, ako'y isang estranghero,
Ang mga salita'y tila nagiging hangin,
Sa kanyang mundo, ako'y isang alingawngaw,
Na wala sa tono, isang himig na naligaw,
Isang awit ng pag-asa na sa dilim ay naglalaho.

Kahit na ang damdamin ay tunay at wagas,
Sa kanyang pag-ibig, ako'y tila isang ulap,
Na sa kabila ng init ng araw, ay nagiging hamog,
Isang pag-ibig na sa kanya'y hindi kailanman mag-uugat,
Isang damdaming sa hangin ay naglalaro,
Sa bawat hakbang, ako'y nawawala, nagiging anino.

Sa likod ng mga ngiti, may lungkot na nakatago,
Sa bawat yakap, ako'y nagiging mas malayo,
Isang pag-ibig na tila isang pangarap na nilimot,
Na sa kabila ng lahat, ako'y naglalakbay sa dilim,
Umaasang balang araw, ang puso'y magigising,
Sa pag-ibig na sa kanya'y tunay na mag-uugat.

Ngunit sa bawat pagsubok, ako'y natututo,
Na sa likod ng sakit, may aral na nakatago,
Sa pag-ibig na ito, ako'y nagiging matatag,
Sa mga aninong naglalaho, ako'y muling babangon,
Dahil sa bawat pag-ibig, may pag-asa at liwanag,
Na sa kabila ng dilim, ako'y muling maghahanap.

“Paalam, Julyana”

Sa ilalim ng araw na sumisikat,
Ay isang dilag na tila bituin,
Buhok niyang itim na kay sarap pagmasdan,
Sa dulo ng kanyang ngiti’y puno ng ligaya’t pag-asa.

Kayumangging balat na tila likha ng lupa,
Sa salamin na matalim, mga mata’y nagniningning,
Matangkad na tila puno sa hardin,
ngunit ikaw ang nagbukod tangi sa mga bituin
At sa kanyang sulat-kamay, sining ay naglalakbay.

Leonora’y parang musika sa hangin,
Sa bawat galaw at tunog ng kanyang tinig,
Julyana, ikaw ay katulad niya,
Ang bawat araw mo’y isang awit ng pag-ibig.

Sa tuwing ikaw ay naglalakad sa ilalim ng araw,
Ang mundo’y gumagalaw sa iyong ritmiko,
Ang mga ulap ay tila sumusunod sa iyo,
Ang bawat hakbang mo’y nagdadala ng saya,
na siya ring nagbibigay sakín ng Ligaya

Ang bawat ngiti mo’y liwanag sa gabi,
Sa mata mo, masasalamín ang pag-asa’t pangarap,
Ang iyong sulat ay sining na buhay,
Sa bawat letra, damdamin ay nananalaytay.
Ang iyong kagandahan ay walang kapantay,
tila isang bahagharing nagniningning sa kulay.
Ikaw ang Leonora sa bawat pagdapo ng araw,
Sa pagkakilala mo, mundo’y mas maliwanag,
Julyana, ikaw ang simoy ng bagong pag asa.

Sa aking pag-alis, sana’y huwag mo akong kalimutan,
Sa mga alaala’t araw na nagdaan,
Ang bawat tula ay tanda ng pag-ibig,
Na sa puso mo’y ako lagi ang mananaig.
Paalam, Julyana.
